Monessen, PA—Douglas Education Center (DEC), a creative career school located just 30 miles south of Pittsburgh, is excited to announce the hiring of Tony Báez Milán as an Admissions Representative.

Báez Milán is a 1994 graduate of Columbia College – Hollywood, in California, and has worked in the education sector for several years. Previous to joining DEC, he was an admissions representative at Western School of Health and Business Careers in Pittsburgh, PA.

Báez Milán makes a great addition to DEC, bringing vast experience in recruiting students for creative programs, as well as extensive knowledge of the entertainment field. He was the Director of Admissions at Theatre of Arts - Performing Arts Academy in Hollywood, CA and a Senior Admissions Representative for the Los Angeles Film School, also in Hollywood, CA. These positions gave him the opportunity to build a network of contacts within the entertainment world that he still maintains today.

His background will strengthen the DEC admissions staff in recruiting students for DEC’s growing creative programs (digital film production, special make-up effects, illustration and fantasy art, and graphic design and web).

“I’m very excited to be a part of the team at Douglas Education Center, a place where you can find leadership, direction, and vision,” said Báez Milán. “Exciting things happen here every day. It’s great to see what the students are accomplishing, and how the school embraces the future.”

Báez Milán is bilingual in English and Spanish, has served as a motivational public speaker for various age groups, and is a published author and filmmaker. He resides in Greensburg, PA with his wife Tracey, and children Ian and Amanda.

For more information on DEC, please visit www.dec.edu or call 724-684-3684 x 100.

###