The DEC Story

From its earliest days, this institution has strived to provide the skills and education necessary for its graduates to be a successful part of an ever expanding job market. Douglas Education Center (DEC) has a rich history of creating success through education dating all the way back to 1904. Through the generations, DEC has had a few different owners, but each of them has believed in the same ideal—quality education as a means of achieving a meaningful career in the students’ field of study.

Since its inception, the school has seen multiple changes to its curricula. Douglas, which was known simply as a business and secretarial school, expanded its offerings due to ever changing job markets and employer needs. The first non-business program to be added was the Medical Assistant Program in 1992. This program has been a part of DEC course offerings ever since and has seen a sister program in Medical Billing and Coding added.

With the new millennium approaching, it was time for DEC to once again expand its offerings, this time into a more creative field. In 2000, Tom Savini signed on to be signator for the school’s special make-up effects program. Now in its 21st year, the Tom Savini’s Special Make-Up Effects Program has become known as a “destination” program and has graduated students from all 50 states. It has also attracted international students from Argentina, Belgium, Canada, England, France, Germany, Mexico, and Serbia, just to name a few.

The next expansion happened in 2003, when DEC decided to look beyond the arts and opened The Cosmetology Academy. These program offerings were designed to give students a well-rounded education in the fields of General Cosmetology, Esthetics, Esthetician and Nail Technology, and Cosmetology Teacher/Salon Management. With job markets growing in the beauty industry, a Massage Therapy Program was added to these offering, in 2019.

The newest creative program, added in 2008, was The Factory Digital Filmmaking Program. It was renamed the George A. Romero’s Filmmaking Program in 2016, when director George A. Romero became the signator for the program.

DEC also expanded into the area of skilled trades in 2013 with the addition of its training programs for those seeking a Commercial Driver’s License (CDL) or training in Heavy Equipment, Safety, and Natural Gas.

Today, what started out as a business and secretarial school housed in one building grew exponentially and now DEC spans eight city blocks. Today, over 117 years after its inception, Douglas Education Center continues to break new ground in academic achievement, staying true to its mission by providing a quality education to those who wish to follow their dreams.

HERE to HELP

Campus and student life is dedicated to helping students, staff and faculty experience DEC life to its fullest. We have a profound commitment to the diversity of our community and are focused on creating an environment where you can thrive. Through our wide array of programs and services, we provide opportunities and experiences that build community, help you grow personally and professionally, and create a place that you can call home now and throughout your life.

STUDENT RESOURCE COMMITTEE

The Student Services Committee at DEC is the primary liaison between students and administration at DEC; it is the primary resource for information about student services. The Student Services Committee provides access to programs and information concerning campus life, special academic programs, disabilities, student organizations and publications, as well as personal and academic problems.

This is a time when students are developing their ability to function independently in the world. Some students may experience roadblocks in this process, and the Student Services Committee is here to help.

Local Crisis Center Hotlines

A crisis can range from feeling lonely and needing to talk to thoughts of suicide. Stress and problems-both large and small-fill each of our lives and we all have moments of crisis. No matter how big or small these problems seem, it helps to talk with someone. Crisis Center Hotlines provide counseling and mental health support for individuals and families through telephone hotlines, face-to-face meetings and temporary housing assistance.

Each county has their own Crisis Center Hotline that is available to residents of that county.

Douglas Education Center is located in Westmoreland County and its crisis center resources are available without charge to our out-of-state students who are temporarily residing here in Westmoreland County.

If you are an out-of-state student who is temporarily residing outside of Westmoreland County, you may use the Crisis Center located in your county.
